Two Priests Released By Red Chinese

Turncoat's Wife At Hong Kong; Asks U.S. Visa

HONG KONG, June 14 (UP)—Communist China released two American Roman Catholic priests from prison today and permitted the Russian-born wife of an American turncoat soldier to cross the border in Hong Kong.

The priests, the Rev. Charles McCarthy of San Francisco and the Rev. John Houle of Glendale, Calif., both Jesuits, talked with United Press by telephone from the Jesuit mission house in Shanghai.

They said they were in good health and expected to return to the West in about 10 days.

The woman who entered Hong Kong was Tanya Dsarasova Hawkins, 24, wife of Samuel Hawkins of Oklahoma City, who left China last February and now is in the United States.

Served Sentences

She told newsmen that Andrew Fortuna, of Ionia, Mich., another of the 21 soldiers was elected to go to Communist China after the Korean War rather than return to the United States, probably would come out Saturday.

That would leave 12 of the soldiers still behind the Bamboo Curtain. One of the 21 died there and seven came out before Hawkins.

The release of the two priests left six Americans still imprisoned in China.

Fathers McCarthy and Houle were arrested June 15, 1953, in Shanghai and received four-year prison sentences. They served them to the day.

Mrs. Hawkins appeared at the border today wearing a western-style blue print dress and red shoes and carrying a shoulder bag.

Curious About Oklahoma

The blonde Russian woman, who met and married Hawkins in China, said she was anxious to get back with her husband but did not know when she would go to the United States.

Coci Says Five Machines Seized By State Police

NEW ORLEANS, June 14 (UP)—Sheriff William Coci of Jefferson Parish said today state police have seized five illegal gambling machines and arrested two men on charges of operating racehorse handbooks in the parish.

Coci said the plainclothesmen turned the machines over to him after a two-day search, and the devices were smashed at the East Bank jail.

The gambling seizures and arrests were the first reported since Gov. Earl Long told state police Supt. John Nick Brown yesterday that the administration "could not put up with gambling conditions in Jefferson any longer."

Lists Seizures

Coci said two horseshoe machines were confiscated from the Moulin Rouge in Marrero, a horse-racing machine and a slot machine from the Moonlight Inn in Gretna, and a slot machine from Baker's Market & Bar in Harvey.

Polio Rate In U.S. Continues Sharp Decline

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP)—The Public Health Service reported today that there were 74 new cases of poliomyelitis during the week ended June 8.

They brought to 511 the number of cases reported since April 1, the "seasonal low" point which is considered the start of the new polio season.

Success of Salk polio vaccine injections was reflected in public health figures for this and previous years. The 74 cases during the past week compared with 177 in the corresponding week of 1956 and a 224-case median for the 1952-56 years. The 511 cases since April 1 compared with 973 last season and the 1,302 median since 1952.

AFTER STARVATION DEATH

Relatives Hunt For Will; Locate $275,000 In Cash

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Three weeks ago a frail little widow was found starving to death in her dreary Staten Island flat. Today, it was learned she was worth half a million dollars, $275,000 of it in bills hoarded in her bedroom closet.

The woman, Mrs. Emma Buhl De Hart, was known to have a couple of hundred thousand in banks when she died May 28 of starvation at the age of 90. But relatives were flabbergasted at the additional fortune carelessly crammed into cardboard boxes. The money was apparently made in real estate.

The hoard was expected to add further fuel to an already hot court fight over the estate of the woman called "Miss Emma" by her Staten Island neighbors. Involved in the fight are Mrs. De Hart's only relatives, six nephews and three nieces.

Two Killed, 40 Injured By Tornado

20 Houses Hit In Springfield, Illinois, Area

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 14 (AP)—A tornado and a violent thunderstorm accompanied by rain, slammed into Springfield today, killing two women, injuring at least 40 other persons and destroying more than 20 houses.

The Weather Bureau at first said the powerful winds were not a tornado, but later revised this.

First reports were that at least three persons and possibly four were killed. But rescue squads and police later said two dead had been counted.

One woman was crushed under her house, moved from its foundations by the storm. Another woman died when a high voltage line, knocked loose by lightning, struck her. She had been astride a bicycle.

40 To 50 Hurt

Hospitals in Springfield, the Illinois state capital and a city of more than 100,000 reported between 40 and 50 persons had been treated for injuries—some serious.

All of the city's emergency units and auxiliary police forces were called to aid in clearing debris and in administering first aid to the injured.

Red Cross officials said the hardest-hit section, that apparently hit by the tornado, were three city blocks on the southeast side. Twenty houses were reported destroyed and some 30 others damaged heavily.

Nearly every tree was uprooted in two city parks nearby.

In Squall Line

The Weather Bureau said the storm moved out of "a squall line of thunderstorms sweeping across west-central Illinois and the Mississippi Valley."

The force of the winds, which blew steadily at about 70 m.p.h. and ranged up to 98 m.p.h., pushed freight cars off a railroad track in southwest Springfield.

Three industrial plants were heavily damaged, police said. A (Continued On Page 2-A)

State College Heads Told To Trim Budgets

BATON ROUGE, June 14 (UP)—The Board of Education today directed state college presidents to trim their budgets for the next school year to fit legislative appropriations.

The board directed the new budgets be submitted by July 3 so board members could study them before their July 18 meetings.

The nine state colleges sought a total increase for the 1957-58 school year of $5,625,884.

Gov. Earl Long's budget committee, planning state spending for the 1957 fiscal session which adjourned Tuesday, slashed the total to $2,481,067, an increase of $1,638,409.

Elkins Upset

President Charles C. Elkins of Francis T. Nicholls State College, Thibodaux, protested to the board. "The budget committee didn't take into consideration that we are expanded into the third and fourth year."

The 1956 Legislature established Nicholls as a four-year college, removing the junior college from the direction of Louisiana State University.

Elkins sought and received approval of the board to petition the Board of Liquidation of State Debt (Continued On Page 2-A)

Winner of the Miss Morehouse contest was Miss Mary Sterling Rolfe, a tall, honey-blond from Oak Ridge. Sponsored by the Oak Ridge Lion's Club, Miss Rolfe will now represent Morehouse parish at the Miss Louisiana pageant in Lake Providence.

Little Miss Morehouse is Kate Carey, three-year-old blonde daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carey of Oak Ridge.

Federal Official To Enforce Ban

JACKSON, Miss., June 14 (AP)—The superintendent of the federal building here said today he has reminded elevator operators of a rule requiring news photographers to get his permission before taking pictures in the building.

Meanwhile Asst. U. S. Atty. Jack McDill, who ordered seizure of a reporter's camera yesterday, said he does not plan to make an apology demanded by editor Fredrick Sullens of the Jackson Daily News.

In addition, he said, they need the permission of the "agency head" before taking pictures in a "space assigned to an agency."

The only exception to the latter rule, he said, was made last August and permits photographers to take pictures of such things as murals and historic features without agency permission.

The Daily News, in a front-page editorial today, said the regulation "violates...the rights of the people and is wholly devoid of any authority in statutory law."

The editorial said federal buildings "belong to the people." Publisher Delmus Harden of the Itawamba Times, newly-elected president of the Mississippi Press Assn., called the incident a "deplorable violation of the freedom of the press."

One of the ladies, Mrs. Bertha Wilkinson of Parker Road, has missed the last two jackpots by only one letter. In this past week's puzzle she left the letter "o" out of Love in number six down.

Final Civil Rights Vote Set Monday

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP)—The House handed President Eisenhower a crucial victory today by beating down a stubborn Southern drive to attack a jury trial amendment to his civil rights bill.

The 199 to 167 vote apparently cleared the way for passage of the bill itself next Monday. It then would go to the Senate where Dixie senators are prepared to try to talk it to death if it ever reaches the floor.

The House vote followed day-long arguments in which administration forces charged that the jury trial amendment would wreck the whole bill. Proponents said it was necessary to protect the traditional rights of all Americans.

Fighting Southerners

Southerners fighting the civil rights measure had spent six days building up to today's showdown which came on a non-record teller vote in which members are counted as they pass up the aisle.

Between 30 to 40 Republicans appeared to have been counted for the amendment. They were joined by a sprinkling of Northern Democrats.

Although the amendments drew its heaviest support from the Dixie bloc, it was sponsored by a freshman Republican congressman from the North—Rep. Russell W. Keeney (Ill.), a former state judge.

It would have guaranteed a trial by jury, instead of a federal judge, for persons accused of violating court orders sought by the government under the bill to protect voting and other civil rights.

The House took up the amendment under an agreement calling for a final vote on the entire bill by 6 p.m. EDT Monday. It was expected to pass but not until the Southern bloc wages a further fight for other amendments.

Long Controversy

At one point in the long controversy it appeared the Southerners would win their battle for the jury trial amendment. But the tide turned when the administration swayed many Republicans against it.

Southerners, however, fought up to the last minute. Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.) charged that objections to jury trials showed "prejudice against the South."

Dies said these objections were based on the fear that southern (Continued On Page 2-A)

Former Mail Clerk Fined For Football Fraud

ATLANTA, June 14 (UP)—A former railway mail clerk charged with winning a national football game guessing contest without doing any guessing today drew a $1,000 fine for his trouble.

Marshall T. Gregory of suburban Tucker was convicted and fined in U. S. District Court on a mail fraud count.

Government attorneys claimed he won an expensive automobile in 1954 by collecting football winners after the games had been played and submitting them in the contest under an altered postmark.

Used Wife's Name

They said he supplied under his wife's name 19 winners out of 20 games—all that were carried in an Atlanta newspaper. He gave the exact 52-0 score by which Duke defeated Pennsylvania.

Gregory was employed at the time on an Atlanta-to-Nashville mail run. His attorneys said that they will appeal his fine on the ground that he won the contest fairly by use of a "system" which he had devised.

Gregory apparently still had a profit of some $4,000 from the "guessing" contest, not counting attorneys' fees.

Asst. U. S. Atty. J. W. Stokes, who prosecuted him, said that as far as he knew no effort was made to repossess the automobile valued at some $5,000.

ALL CUTS REJECTED

Senate Passes Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The Senate passed the administration's $3,637,000,000 foreign aid bill to-night by a thumping, bipartisan margin.

The roll-call vote was 57-25.

A combination of Republicans and Democrats steered by the two party floor leaders, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) and Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) crushed every attempt to cut the program or to hold it to one-year.

The bill, which has yet to clear the House, serves notice on the free world, as well as Russia, that military assistance and defense support will continue for at least two more years and that the United States will make loans for economic development abroad for a minimum of three more years.

It was a sweeping victory for President Eisenhower all down the line. But both Johnson and Knowland made it clear they expect the funds to be cut in appropriations measure which must follow later to provide the actual funds to finance the spending. The foreign aid bill, an authorization measure, simply sets ceilings on spending.

The Senate defeated on a close vote an effort by Sen. Case (R-SD) to increase from 200 to 225 million dollars, the funds earmarked in the new bill for sale overseas of surplus U. S. farm products for foreign currencies. These currencies are used in place of dollars to pay U. S. costs overseas.

Case said this total had been reduced from 300 to 250 and now to 200 millions in the past three years.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.), acting as floor manager, explained that a higher total of farm products would be moved if possible without disrupting the program.

The voice vote was so close that standing vote was required before the proposal was beaten. No totals were announced on the standing vote.

Democrats who tried to cut and hold the program to one year were routed repeatedly by the rolling combination of Republicans and Democrats led by Johnson and Knowland.

Opponents cried "waste" and "extravagance" but many of the bill's supporters apparently preferred to hold their budget-cutting fire for the appropriation measure which must follow later to provide actual funds for the program.

Johnson and Knowland called the Senate into session 2½ hours early and kept it going in an overtime night session in an effort to reach a final vote on the authorization measure.

Some Republicans joined the Democratic onslaught led by Sens. Long and Ellender of Louisiana and Morse of Oregon. These reached their crest in a 49-40 vote turning back an effort by Long to slash defense supports from 800 to 710 million dollars.

With the measure's money totals apparently secure against reduction, opponents shifted their attack to the administration's proposed three-year, two-billion-dollar fund for economic development loans.

Morse opened a fight to hold the fund to one year and 500 million dollars, but was snowed under by a roll call vote of 54-32. Morse's amendment would have knocked out authority for the development fund to borrow 750 million dollars additional in each of two succeeding years.

Would Have Cut Heart

Chairman Green (D-RI) said the Morse amendment would have "cut the heart out" of the project.

The Senate adopted by voice vote an amendment of Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) designed to tighten the language in the bill on operations of the new development loan fund.

It provides that loans from the fund "shall be made on the basis of firm commitments" by the recipients to make repayment and "on a finding there is a reasonable prospect of repayment."

Green said this was in accordance with the understanding by the Foreign Relations Committee of the way the new loan fund would be administered, and accepted the amendment. It was the first floor change made in the bill.

jurists would not convict any violators of court orders in the civil rights cases. He said no evidence was produced to show that federal jurors in the South "will not do their duty."

Rep. Toby Morris (D-Okl.) told his colleagues "if you don't allow jury trials it is going to come back and haunt you."

But Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) said that if the amendment were added, violators would "feel free to laugh at orders of the court."

Failed Earlier

Backers of the bill tried and failed earlier to get the jury trial amendment ruled out without a vote.

In a surprise move, Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N. Y.), floor manager for the bill, challenged the amendment as "out of order."

But Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R. I.), who was presiding, held the amendment was pertinent.

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, based his challenge on a ruling given when the House considered the Volstead, or prohibition law years ago. Celler said an identical jury trial amendment was ruled out of order then because it dealt with penalties and not legal procedures.

for more money. "We have standards to meet. Unless we get the extra money we can't meet the standards for accreditation."

He said he didn't know how much would be required.

Got One-Third

Nichols sought an increase of $300,241 for the next school year, but received only about one-third of the requested increase, $96,940 for a $593,336 total budget.

Hardest hit by budget cuts was Grambling College. The Negro institution sought $518,329 more, but got only $2,347,288 for a net increase of $32,282.

Several presidents asked for instructions as to how they should shift available funds.

Member Joseph Davies said the board had a policy no college instructor should make less than a school teacher with comparable training and experience.

"You can't go more than half way up the new salary schedule," he said, "because it would apply only if the teachers received it all and they only got half the increase."

Lowest First

"Probably you should first adjust the lower levels to make sure they don't get less than a comparable school teacher, then provide raises to higher ranked faculty members."

The board informally approved his suggestion to the colleges.

In other action, the board unanimously voted to reconstitute the president's council, which recommends state college policies to the board.

The resolution provides that the assistant education superintendent for higher education will be a "consultant" and not a member of the council of college presidents. Previously he has been chairman of the group.

Jackson Objects

Education Supt. Shelby Jackson objected when the resolution by members George T. Madison of Bastrop and Harold B. McSwain of Alexandria provided for only six meetings per year.

"They've been wanting to meet more often," Jackson said. "They already meet each month."

Several college presidents said, "six meetings are enough if we can call them as we need other meetings."

The final draft provided board president Leon Gary or the assistant superintendent for higher education could authorize special meetings.

The board approved the educable census as of last Jan. 1 and distribution of per educable funds according to the census and the $55 per educable ration set by the 1957 Legislature.

Divides Funds

This provides $47,029,895 for distribution to parishes on the basis of 855,088 school age children.

The per-educable was estimated in the original budget, then chopped by 6,660 when the final figures were given to the House Appropriations Committee, freeing about a half million dollars which was shifted into Jackson's office expenses, vocational education and the teacher salary fund without changing the total for public education.

In other action, the board: 1. Accepted the 2-7-8 per cent interest bid of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency for $1,575,000 in Louisiana Polytechnic Institute dormitory and dining hall revenue bonds.

2. Accepted bids for paper, pencils and mimeograph stencils with the exception of certain grades of paper on which will be advertised again with new specifications. Bids are okayed on the basis of rates and the total contract is figured at the end of the year after the parishes complete requisitioning the materials.

years ago by the death of her husband, Samuel, who owned and operated two tugboats.

It was her habit in her later years to arise about noon and go to a nearby dime store for a hot-dog or hamburger. Then she returned to sun herself on a chair outside her flat or listen to a radio inside until her 7:30 p.m. bedtime.

A businessman in the neighborhood missed the little woman May 23 and a policeman broke down her door to find her near death. She was taken to a hospital where she died five days later.

Nephew Petitions Court

On June 6, Frank B. Knowlton, a nephew of Oakland, Calif., petitioned in Staten Island Surrogate's Court for the right to administer the money Mrs. De Hart was known to have in banks. He estimated her total fortune at not more than $300,000.

This touched off a court fight between two factions of relatives.

Yesterday, the other faction, headed by Albert K. Buhl of Staten Island, and his brother, Norman, of Philadelphia got court approval to search for a will in Mrs. De Hart's flat.

They found no will. Instead, they came across the money in the closet. There was $11,000 in $1,000 bills, $11,500 in $500 bills, $220,100 in hundreds, $24,250 in fifties, $5,340 in twenties, and $2,910 in tens.

It took a police officer 14 hours just to copy the serial numbers on the bills.

Man Arrested On Check Charges

Arrested last night on two counts of cashing worthless checks was J. W. Benton, 24, who lives at the rear of 509 Washington street.

Benton was apprehended by Monroe city police, and later was transferred to the parish jail.

Slated to appear in court on June 17 is Dorothy Fletcher, 25, of Route 1, Monroe, who was charged with theft of merchandise last night. She posted a $75 bond and was released.

A Bosco Negro, Sammie Vahner, 28, was arrested at the corner of 14th street and Washington at 7 last night, and charged with public intoxication and use of a deadly weapon, a shotgun. He was confined to the city jail.

prize-winning editor of the Greenville Delta Democrat-Times, as Carter left a grand jury room. The grand jury, which had been investigating charges of brutality against two Greenville Negroes in Hinds County jail here, brought in a final report which ignored the beating charges.

Asked if the hallway were space "assigned to an agency," Palmore said: "The whole fifth floor does belong to the courts. I wouldn't be the one to determine whether that hallway is under the jurisdiction of the courts. I would think it is. But I'm not a lawyer. I would think that everything on that fifth floor is under the jurisdiction of the courts."

Cites Notice

Palmore called attention to a notice outside the elevator doors which he said has been there for "quite a while." It says in part: "Permission will be granted by the General Services Administration building superintendent or custodian in charge, for taking photographs for news, advertising or commercial purposes, within the property, provided the consent of the occupant agency or agencies has been obtained."

Palmore, transferred here 10 months ago from Nashville, Tenn., said GSA regulations also require him to assist news photographers and said he is ready to do so.

16. FIGHT not RIGHT. He avoids a RIGHT by boxing skill or instinct, not because he is "shrewd." He might "SHREWDLY," i.e., with astute calculation, avoid a FIGHT. NIGHT is vague.

19. SORE not SOME. Just SOME "distress" can be so minor that no "friends" are needed as "a great consolation." SORE (dictionary: causing great mental pain or sorrow) is most apt. SOLE is poor.

21. TOP not TON. TOP weight, yes; but in comparison with heavier weights, TON or TOD are comparatively LIGHT. TOT, TOW TOM and TOY are not good—furthermore, the clue would have to read, "its weight."

22. TIDE not SIDE OR HIDE. The inclusion of the words, "the STRENGTH of," superfluous for SIDE, favors TIDE. The TOUGHNESS but not "the STRENGTH of" HIDE.

CLUES DOWN: 2. ECONOMIES not ECONOMIC. "Much thought" is "given to the field of ECONOMICS at all "times." It is particularly "in time of crisis" that "much thought" is "given to" ECONOMIES on a national scale."

6. LOVE not LIVE. "People who LIVE to make others happy" are more than "somewhat unselfish." They are greatly self-sacrificing. LOVE is most apt.

13. LETTER not LITTER. Of all employees, the clue specifically refers to a "typist," pointing to LETTER as the best answer.

14. CURIOUS not FURIOUS. "A STRANGE woman will" easily make her CURIOUS. "She" may or may not be FURIOUS depending upon just who the "woman" is.

22. ODD not OLD. OLD (not antique) "furniture" might be quite unsalable. There is no apparent reason why you should not be able to sell one or two ODD "pieces of furniture."

Nothing is left to chance at Green Bros. ultra-modern Dairy. Every step of the processing is inspected, checked and tested.

Mr. John Green is pictured here as he inspects the pumping apparatus by which milk is transferred from the glass receptacles used in the milking parlor to a stainless steel storage tank in the milk room. As you will again note, this transfer is accomplished through a series of plastic and stainless steel pipes. At no time is the milk exposed to air, or touched by human hands.

The refrigerated, agitated storage tank serves a two-fold purpose. It cools the milk, keeping the temperature below 40 degrees. It also prevents "separation" by keeping cream and milk thoroughly mixed together.

Unusual And Prophetic

Little attention was paid to the fact that a shipload of sulphur appeared at the Port of New Orleans recently. For sulphur to arrive at any port in the state is not unusual. But there might have been a little more concern if people realized what could eventually happen as a result of that particular shipload.

This shipload of sulphur was from Mexican mines. And it was prophetic. The arrival of the sulphur simply is a notification that Mexican sulphur is a competitor of Louisiana sulphur at home as well as abroad. In the world market the two have been slugging it out for several years. But the competition thus far had not spread to Louisiana, the No. 2 sulphur state.

Now it is obvious Mexico is not going to ignore any place any longer and is out to sell its sulphur to any market it can find. And the trouble is Mexican sulphur can be sold a lot cheaper here than Louisiana-produced sulphur.

Mining sulphur is expensive in Louisiana because of the marshy character of the coastal sites. In Mexico, labor is cheap, and the sulphur deposits there are beneath high land, making it much easier to mine. In fact Mexico can pay export costs and come out ahead.

By the end of this year, the Mexican industry reports it hopes to be producing yellow mineral at the rate of more than one million tons annually. Yet the Mexican sulphur industry is less than four years old. The industry in Louisiana is 54 years old and slightly more than two million tons are produced yearly.

Thus the growth of Mexican competition is serious and could result in a sharp drop of revenue for Louisiana.

Sulphur has been one of the industries the various Long administrations have attempted to tax out of business. In fact, just a year ago, Gov. Long tried to boost the state's severance tax on sulphur by nearly 200 per cent. In attempting to raise the prevailing $1.03-per-ton tax to $3, the governor resorted to all sorts of tactics. And, although he still fell short of the majority required to get the tax passed, there are indications he may try it again.

During the heated debates on the proposal to increase the sulphur tax here, it was pointed out that Louisiana's industry faced a growing threat from Mexico.

The arrival of the Mexican ship emphasized that point more than any amount of discussion ever could. And if there was any disposition on the part of some legislators and Gov. Long to discount the Mexican threat as an alarm manufactured for the occasion, this should make it emphatically clear just what the situation is.

A severance tax would impair Louisiana sulphur's ability to compete. That would not only seriously hurt the sulphur industry, but every Louisiana citizen.

Russia Invents A Plan

News from Moscow continues to be puzzling. For instance, a recent item says Russia is planning to permit its citizens to make purchases on the installment plan. It doesn't seem to make sense.

The installment plan is a capitalist invention, but the bolsheviks copy capitalistic practices when it suits their book. The news is not incredible from that angle.

But the installment plan was invented for conditions of high productivity of consumer goods. When the economy is producing goods faster than consumers can pay for them out of current income, the surplus has to be sold on time or not sold at all. But Russia is not suffering from overproduction of consumer goods. Quite the opposite.

So much of that nation's productive energy goes into war production and heavy industry that demand outruns supply. Under these conditions, what possible point is there in selling on the installment plan?

Perhaps the explanation is that this is not the installment plan as Americans know it. When an American buys something on time he makes a down payment and it is delivered to his home or garage. He enjoys the use of it while he completes the payments. But perhaps Russia will not do it that way.

Maybe the Russian purchaser will not get delivery until he has finished making his payments. Then, if the goods are available, he'll get them. But will the Russian people trust their government that far? For years they contributed part of their wages to savings bonds, only to be told in 1957 that neither interest nor principal would be paid to them for 20 years or more.

Maybe Russians who order a baby carriage, for instance, will be told after it's paid for that it cannot be delivered for 20 years.

Improving 'Pinpointing'

Two closely related sciences, astronomy and navigation, have been given a boost in accurate measurement by a discovery made in conjunction with the activities of the coming International Geophysical Year.

A scientist working for the United States government has perfected a moon camera which will provide more accurate information on relative speeds and positions of the moon and stars.

Dr. William Markowitz, the inventor of the camera and director of the Time Service Division at the United States Naval Observatory, expects his camera to eliminate existing discrepancies concerning geographical locations as well as provide additional data on the speed of the earth and the orbit of the moon.

Mapmakers have long recognized that certain map locations, particularly islands and other small land masses, are in error as much as a mile on modern maps. The exact distances between continents is also believed to differ somewhat from present known measurements.

Geographical inaccuracies stem from the methods used to locate spots on earth from studies of astronomical bodies. With the moon camera it will be possible to pinpoint heavenly "landmarks" much more accurately and thus compute relative positions on earth to a more exact degree.

It is amazing, in view of the inaccuracies still present in navigational information, that the Pilgrims were able to find the right continent in their voyage of 1620. Considering the crude ships and instruments of their day, it is not surprising that the Mayflower landed at Cape Cod instead of reaching the planned Chesapeake Bay destination.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Corrective Measures Are Suggested For Curbing 'Legislative Engineers'

A shorter leash on lobbyists and more financial running room for candidates for elective federal offices may be an apt description of two highly important proposals now before the Senate, after being reported by a special committee to investigate Political Activities. They were introduced by Senator John L. McClellan (Dem. - Ark.) who will earn the title of busiest senator at this session without much competition.

This is the season described as "clean up" time when Congress decides that some thought should be given to curbing practices which may not be corrupt, but reflect upon the integrity of the American system of government. Two of these are lobbying and excessive campaign expenditures, which periodically become explosive issues, in the Senate particularly.

Lobbying in recent years has assumed a respectability which has removed much of the stigma it once bore, but not because of the present law to regulate lobbying, which provides for little more than registration by lobbyists with the Secretary of the Senate. Some lobbyists call themselves "legislative engineers" and while they still attempt to influence the course of legislation, more of that effort is made in the open, in testimony before House and Senate committees.

Not until the flare up last year over the disclosure that Senator Francis Case (Rep. - S.D.) had been offered a $2500 "campaign contribution" by two lobbyists, Commissioner General of the United States, who has said emphatically that he does not want the job and that lobby regulation should be under congressional control. That led to a disclosure that the Natural Gas and Oil Resources Committee which raised the money for the information campaign, did not report it under the existing lobbying law. Under the new proposal it would be required to do so. But no ban is put on lobbying as such. It would be under supervision and administration of Joseph Campbell, Commissioner General of the United States, who has said emphatically that he does not want the job and that lobby regulation should be under congressional control.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Extraterritoriality Is Involved In The Dispute Over Girard Case

The Girard case involves extraterritoriality, a very tricky and touchy subject. There was a time, after the opening of Japan by Commodore Perry (1853), that many foreign nations enjoyed extraterritoriality on Japanese soil and the Japanese struggled valiantly to get rid of the system by which foreigners governed themselves while living in Japan. As late as when I came to Japan in 1920, in cities such as Yokohama, Kobe and Osaka there were memories of those days.

Extraterritoriality returned with the conquest of Japan by General Douglas MacArthur but soon ended so far as foreign civilians are concerned. The American Army of Occupation became an army to

Odds Favor Wives Who Play Cards Seductively

Read my answer below to Mona's angry charges, for if you wives would spend half the time satisfying your husband's desire for erotic calories, that you now devote to the gastric variety, you'd rarely hear of divorces! Even though on the brink of a break-up, you can still nip divorce in the bud with the booklet below, for the odds favor wives who play their cards seductively!

Case V-312: Mona M., aged 32, is the irate wife mentioned yesterday who thinks I always pick on the wives.

If you have followed this clinical column in practical psychology for at least a full year, you will recall that I do NOT exempt the men from all blame. True enough, my emphasis is usually on the part the aggrieved wife can play to regain her husband's devotion.

But that's because I usually must work through the wife, since the husband may refuse to apply for advice.

Besides, there are about 5,000,000 more unmarried adult women than men, so there aren't enough husbands to go around.

Women must thus fight harder to retain claim to their husbands! Women are generally more self-sacrificial in trying to hold their home together so they can thus furnish a happier place for their children to live.

Like most Marriage Counsellors, I admit that wives are more open-minded in seeking expert outside advice, and they are more diligent in trying to make a success of their marriage, when they have the full facts.

Alas, those full facts have been concealed far too long, which is why your progressive editor offers you this frank educational column on social relations.

As a trained psychologist and psychiatrist, I try to make available to every reader, the proved facts for establishing happy marriages.

And I live what I write herein, for I am a very happily married man and father of five children. I'm no "brain-truster" adviser or old bachelor who theorizes.

But I have outlined many faults of husbands such as the following:

Faults of Husbands

Daily Bible Devotionals

And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.—Luke 10:5.
We do not call on friends or relatives frequently or for long visits as used to be the custom, but we are probably entering more homes for brief periods of conversation by telephone. Sometimes, we also "pop in and out" of the homes of neighbors on brief calls. The thing that should concern us, however, is not the frequency or length of telephone calls or visits but whether or not we "bring peace" to the houses we enter.
Heavenly Father, keep us from idle talk and gossip and help us to be messengers of cheer and goodwill. In Christ's holy name we pray. Amen.

SYLVIA PORTER

201 Americans Had Million Dollar Income In 1954

The odds that you or I ever will have an income of a million dollars a year or a half or a quarter or a tenth of a million are mighty meager, to put it most modestly.

Rather, the Internal Revenue Service's just-released final analysis of our 1954 income tax returns indicates a full 96 per cent of us had incomes of under $10,000 and over 74 per cent of us had incomes of under $5,000. And while tens of millions of us have moved into higher brackets since 1954, the basic income pattern is the same.

Nevertheless, I confess that ever since the days of the New Deal — when the lament that none of us ever would be able to become wealthy again in our land moved into our folklore — I have been utterly fascinated by statistics revealing how many Americans have achieved the income stratosphere of $100,000 to $1,000,000 a year. Somehow, I suspect that you too harbor a secret curiosity about this so heroic goes, with the results of three separate studies on high incomes which by coincidence have all been released in the last several days.

According to the Internal Revenue Service's survey of income tax returns:

In 1954, the number of $1,000,000-a-year Americans zoomed 39 per cent over 1953 to a total of 201. (That, incidentally, was the period of the 1953-54 recession.) The 201 Americans had an eye-popping total income of $406.5 million.

The number in the $100,000 to $1,000,000 group rose 19 per cent to an impressive 18,509. There is no question that many more have entered this fabulously well-heeled group since 1954.

According to a "Business Week" survey of top executive salaries:

In 1956, seven executives of American corporations received salaries of over $500,000.

Their names? Eugene G. Grace, chairman of Bethlehem Steel; Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors; Arthur B. Horner, president of Bethlehem Steel; Crawford H. Greenwalt, president of du Pont; Frederic G. Donner, executive vice-president of General Motors; Louis C. Goad, executive vice-president of General Motors; and Robert E. McMath, vice-president of Bethlehem Steel.

One among these seven—Grace—received a pay hike that boosted him, in solitary splendor, to more than $800,000, the first man to earn that much a year since Business Week started the surveys in 1950.

In addition to the top seven, another 16 received salaries of over $300,000 a year.

Their corporations? Of the 16, four are with Ford, three with du Pont, two with Columbia Broadcasting System and the others are with United Merchants and Manufacturers, Union Carbide, Republic Steel, Distillers Corp., Seagrams, General Motors, Proctor and Gamble and Gulf Oil.

And according to the American Management Assn's sixth annual survey of salaries in the "middle management" category:

In 1957, the average business executive in the middle management category is earning nearly six per cent more than he earned last year.

Of over 6,000 middle management executives surveyed, three-quarters received salary raises last year. In large companies, middle management salaries may go as high as $30,000.

Of course, taxes slash the total incomes. For instance, the estimate is the tax bite shrinks Grace's take-home to about $133,000. And out of the $406.5 million reported by the 201 millionaires, taxes took over $222 million.

But by any standard you can mention, these top salary and income men must be called tremendously wealthy. And they must have investments from which they can earn incomes subject only to limited taxation.

In short, these $555 statistics pound home the fact that while America is becoming a land of "people's capitalism," it also is a land of giant capitalists too.

And despite the New Deal, Fair Deal and now what even some ardent Republicans call the Ordeal, the Horatio Alger saga lives on. It's still possible to become a millionaire and remain one.

CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

The Significance Of Khrushchev's Telecast

Nikita Khrushchev is the ruler of the second most powerful nation on earth and one that believes that it is rapidly catching up with the United States, which is, in 1957, the strongest power on earth.

Khrushchev has the additional advantage of heading an oligarchical force which not only control his own country but which affects the internal affairs of every nation through a political party that it uses as an agency of infiltration and penetration. This party may be as effective as it is in China or Hungary where it is in absolute control; or as weak as in the United States where it is wracked by an internal struggle. But it operates everywhere.

Nikita Khrushchev has never before done a telecast where he agreed that three foreign reporters would ask him questions. In fact, he has never before done this sort of thing at all. Therefore, it is obvious that he had a purpose in this first effort, that the time, place and setting were of his choosing, and that the aim was to speak over the heads of governments to the peoples of all countries. It was a political master stroke; nobody in a communist country has, for instance, seen President Eisenhower on television.

We were told that it was all unrehearsed but that he had an idea as to the fields which would be covered. This explanation is, of course, redundant; naturally, he would be able to anticipate the questions, because there are a limited number of questions that are pertinent and even if the wr American life becomes so cheap that a few politicians and bureaucrats in Washington can throw it to the dogs of political expediency, the American people will speak up—and sharply.

It is like that Khrushchev broadcast which made such a good impression at first, but now many Americans realize that we were had and that a brilliant propaganda was done against the United States and that great harm is being done to our country. Americans will not be silent about that either. Moral indignation over the subordination not only of individual Americans but the United States to myopic policy is growing every day.

'CONTRADICT' . . . HISTORY'

Catholics Brand Bishop Oxnam's Remarks 'Foolish'

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The newspaper of the Washington Roman Catholic diocese today described as "a flagrant contradiction of . . . history" remarks by Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam about the Georgetown University Foreign Service School.

In a speech here Sunday, Bishop Oxnam had said of the Georgetown school: "It is natural, perhaps even proper, that students trained by Jesuits in a Jesuit institution should graduate conditioned favorably to Vatican world policy."

He made the statement in commenting on the plans of American University, a Protestant institution supported largely by Methodists, to establish a new school of international service.

Saying there are twice as many Protestants as Catholics in the country, the bishop said, "It is proper that a school under Protestant auspices should be established where, in the atmosphere of freedom that characterizes the Protestant campus, future servants of government, business, labor and the church may be trained."

Opposed Liberty

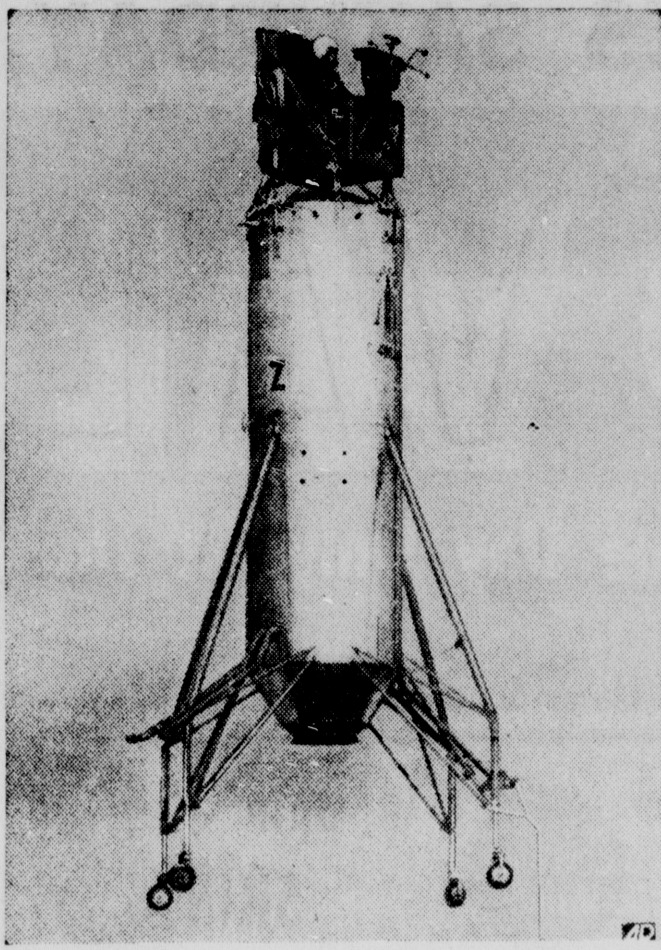

Bishop Oxnam said also that it is "not anti-Catholic to stress the fact that the Roman Catholic church does not believe in religious liberty."

The Catholic Standard, Washington diocesan newspaper, commented in an editorial: "The statement and its implications are a flagrant contradiction of the history of Georgetown and the Catholic Church in this country, particularly in this area."

"The Catholics of Maryland, together with the other Catholics in this country, are proud of their courageous and prudent contributions to the cause of religious liberty in concert with their Protestant neighbors."

Saying that a tradition of religious freedom had been "maintained and enlarged by successive generations of Catholics" since they settled in Maryland and elsewhere, the Standard's editorial continued:

"This is our record. Ignorance of the record and foolish allegations to the contrary will not change the record. Nor will they change our continued devotion to the cause of freedom and the development of the spirit of charity and neighborliness that have characterized the relations between Catholics and Protestants here and elsewhere in the United States."

CHRISTIAN CENTURY

Magazine Says Graham Using 'Rejected' Creed

CHICAGO, June 14 (UP)—The Christian Century Magazine charged today that Billy Graham is leading a drive by the "rejected" creed of fundamentalism to take over the soul of American Protestantism.

The campaign features "skillful manipulations of means and persons, including a well-publicized association with the president of the United States," the magazine said.

The accusation against Graham and the kind of Christianity he represents was made in an editorial in the magazine, a non-denominational Protestant journal edited by laymen.

The editorial called Graham, now conducting an evangelical revival in New York's Madison Square Garden, "an attractive and luminous national figure... a powerful symbol and champion for their cause."

But if Graham and his fellow fundamentalists succeed, the magazine warned, it will "set back Protestant Christianity a half century."

The editorial did not blame Graham and his fellow evangelists, because they "obey their calling as they receive it with ability, devotion and faith."

However it accused other churchmen of backing Graham's "high-pressure mass evangelism even though they do not believe in it."

"They seek cheap and easy solutions; what they get will be no bargain," the magazine said.

Christian Century said fundamentalism is "a discredited and disavowed version of Christianity" which suffered "ignominious defeat" in the 1920s in a drive to capture all Protestant denominations.

Now, the magazine said, the fundamentalists "have apparently decided that the time has come to break out of their isolation and to contend once more for the soul of American Protestantism."

The magazine said fundamentalists insist that Christianity's essence lies in five points—the virgin birth of Jesus, infallible interpretation of the Bible in every detail, resurrection of the physical body of Jesus and of the saints at the end of his story, substitutionary blood atonement, and the imminent return of Christ in person to establish his kingdom.

Sole reliance of these beliefs "twisted the whole gospel out of its historic proportions and context," the editorial said, but Graham's preaching "at no point crosses the fundamentalist line."

Graham does not stress his fundamentalist beliefs in his sermons, the magazine said. "But if it helps the crusade get by, the fundamentalists will have no trouble proving shortly who has really moved in."

The united group, with a membership of three million, will be made up of the present Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

The union was assured today when the 99th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church voted, 161-124, to ratify the previous approval of its presbyteries.

The unifying conference will be held in May 1958 in Pittsburgh on the 100th anniversary of the founding of the United Presbyterian Church, also in Pittsburgh.

The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. previously had ratified the "plan of union" by a nearly unanimous vote.

The merger does not include the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (the Southern church), the other major church to include "Presbyterian" in its name. There is another, smaller group, known as the Presbyterian Church, Cumberland.

Delta Offers 13 Flights To West Coast

DALLAS, June 14 (AP)—An official of Delta Airlines testified in a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing today that his company would provide 13 round-trip flights from Dallas to the West Coast daily if Delta is authorized to compete on the route with American Airlines.

William V. Costello, assistant director of planning and research for Delta, made the statement in testifying before CAB examiner Thomas L. Wrenn.

American currently provides the only direct passenger service between Dallas and the west. Eight other carriers, including Delta, are seeking certification for competitive service.

Costello said Delta's proposed service would serve 14 cities west of Dallas and 32 cities indirectly to the east.

He said that if his company is granted such a certificate it would ask termination of the present Delta-American interchange and added that a Delta-National interchange would be "practical."

Also testifying for Delta was Reolof Van Hessel, economic analyst. Delta president and general manager C. E. Woolman is slated to testify Monday when the hearing resumes.

FOR OPERATION ALERT

Municipal, Civil Defense Officials Formulate Plans

By RECA JASPER

State Editor

ALEXANDRIA—Civil Defense officials, and city officials met yesterday at Camp Beauregard to formulate final plans for operation alert 1957, fifth annual national civil defense alert. About 100 were present.

The nation-wide dress rehearsal in case of atomic-nuclear war will be staged July 12.

Headquarters for the giant simulated war in Louisiana will be near Alexandria. Responsibilities will include mass feeding, first aid and internal security, it was learned at the meeting.

Operations alert will be held to test civil defense capabilities to meet emergencies, and action necessary to survive, to recover from whatever blow the nation might receive in such a war, and to carry on a functional government.

After operation alert has been completed, then analysis of the alert will be made with work started toward solving problems still unanswered.

Speakers at the two-hour meeting included Mayor John H. Boh, deputy Louisiana director of CD; W. C. McMillen, FCDA operations officer for fifth regional district located at Denton, Texas; John W. Dunn, Jr., director of state training and education; Col. Henry Walden, area director of fifth district, and Col. Sam Walker, assistant director of survival project.

Attending from Northeast Louisiana were L. W. Lowry, assistant parish director of Bastrop; Wood Woodall, captain of Bastrop fire department; Jack Davis, Monroe police department; West Monroe Mayor Allen Norris; West Monroe chief of police, Jeff Caldwell; Hazel Burrell, secretary of civil defense of Pineville; Mrs. George Forman, Monroe, executive secretary of fifth district; and Mrs. Helen V. Agnew, assistant director of area 4.

Reds Say U.S. Plane Course 'Deliberate'

TOKYO, Saturday, June 15 (UP)—Communist China charged today that the American plane damaged by Red Chinese anti-aircraft fire Wednesday was engaged in a "deliberate and provocative" action.

The Communist Chinese Defense Ministry rejected a U. S. Navy announcement that the incident occurred because the plane erred in its course. The ministry's statements were broadcast by Peiping radio.

Routine Training Mission

The Navy said Wednesday that Communist anti-aircraft batteries hit one of its carrier-based planes on a routine training mission in the Formosa Straits area. No one was hurt and damage to the plane, which returned to its carrier, was slight, the Navy said.

The Navy announcement said the incident "occurred in hazy weather and it appears that the aircraft concerned was to the westward of its plotted position, being about eight miles off the coast when it was fired on."

The Red Chinese Defense Ministry said today that the Navy announcement "could not be substantiated by facts."

"The plane was not flying alone but in the company of a flight of nationalist Chinese planes," it said. "Contrary to the U. S. Navy's explanation, this shows that the plane was engaged in deliberate and provocative action against Communist China."

Two Young Men Ordered Back To United States

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP)—The State Department has ordered the return to the United States of two young men who entered Communist Hungary illegally for a thrill, it was disclosed today.

The two, Myron A. Gilbert of Wallerboro, S. C., and Warren W. Hair, of North Augusta, S. C., crossed the Iron Curtain May 26. They were jailed by Hungarian police about two miles inside the border. On June 8, they were released at the Austrian border.

The State Department and American officials in Austria have been angered by the illegal trip and the attitude of the men since they were released. Officials said they acted "irresponsibly" and showed no signs of remorse.

Worker Killed

NEW ORLEANS, June 14 (AP)—A huge construction crane, working at the new public library site here backed over a worker here today and crushed him to death.

Killed was John R. Savoie, 36, of New Orleans, an employee of the R. F. Farnsworth Construction Co.

Crane driver James Dozier said he was unaware that the man was behind him when he put the machine into reverse.

Cotton

New York

NEW YORK, June 14 (U)—Cotton futures turned firm today, featured by active commission house and New Orleans buying of distant months. Final prices were 10 cents to $1.15 a bale higher.

The growing conviction that high price supports and the full soil bank program will apply to the 1958 cotton crop accounted for the demand in distant months.

The 1957 crop deliveries moved up in sympathy with the far off positions, and all deliveries except nearby July made new season highs on the advance.

The uncertain outlook for the 1957 cotton crop which may be somewhat under expected exports and domestic consumption during 1957-58 crop season, also attracted buying to futures. At the same time leading spot firms appeared to be hedging cotton less actively than earlier in the week.

Transcontinental Gets FPC Permit

WASHINGTON, June 14 (U)—The Power Commission today gave Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp., Houston, temporary authority to build $37,476,866 worth of natural gas pipeline facilities.

The additional facilities in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia and Pennsylvania are part of a proposed $33,714,000 construction program.

The commission withheld authority to operate the new facilities. It said Transcontinental proposes to serve four new customers and increase sales to 16 existing customers.

Stocks Decline After Three Daily Records

NEW YORK, June 14 (U)—The stock market paused for breath today, dipping mildly, after its run to three straight new highs for 1957 in successive sessions.

Wall Street analysts ascribed the decline to profit-taking combined with the normal pre-weekend caution. They noted that volume tapered off substantially as prices softened, always an indication that the underlying trend is bullish.

The slight loss was not enough to cancel the gains of the prior three days and left the market with a net gain on average for the week, its first in three weeks.

Average Declines
The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 30 cents to 1.06-10 with the industrials unchanged, the rails down 90 cents and the utilities down 20 cents.

Among pivotal issues, the losses went from fractions to around 2 points. But there was a liberal scattering of gainers running to a point or so among many stocks.

Selected issues made some bigger gains.

Of 1,164 issues traded, declines outnumbered advances by 536 to 359. There were 51 new 1957 lows and 39 new highs.

Volume dropped to 2,090,000 shares from 2,630,000 yesterday. Among the 15 most active stocks, eight fell, six rose and one was unchanged.

Olin-Mathieson was the most active stock, off 1 1/4 at 56 1/4 on 58-100 shares.

Corporate bonds were off in dull trading.

U. S. government bonds were lower in light dealings over the counter.

Cotton Letter
The market opened firm and advanced quickly on sizeable general buying. Contracts continued to remain relatively scarce and life of contract highs were made for most months. New October was very strong advancing to 33.20 before losing some of the gain. There is little doubt that short covering is playing a strong role in the recent advance of that month. There has been a great deal of publicity to the effect that congress will do nothing on cotton legislation to alter the present loan program by next season. However, some reports from Washington indicate a strong movement behind the bill introduced by Rep. Jones of Missouri calling for a competitive price for next season's production on both domestic and foreign sales.

Weather through the belt appears to have improved during recent days although there have been widely scattered thundershowers delaying the crop in some areas. The Worth St. grav goods market was quiet with prices unchanged to slightly easier.

Wool Letter
Trading was a little more active than it had been the rest of the week with market advancing about 1 1/2 cents and closing around the highs of the day. There was moderate trade interest on both sides with a fair amount of price fixing and hedge selling in evidence. Today's action appeared to be technical as there was very little outside news as there were no Australian auctions today. Offerings in Australia next week will be relatively light and Bradford trade interests are expected to be prominent buyers there particularly in view of the relatively low wool stock position in Bradford and the fact that the Australian auction season is drawing quickly to a close.

The London top futures market advanced about a penny in moderate trading with the nearby months in best demand. It is estimated that world wool production for the 1956-57 season will total approximately 4,900 million lbs., greasy basis, making it the ninth successive annual increase in production, and about five per cent higher than last years.

Financial Need Cited By Dean

BATON ROUGE, June 14 (U)—The "American ideal" of education cannot be realized without public support of spending "to provide necessary personnel and facilities," the Louisiana State University dean said tonight.

Dean Charles E. Smith spoke at commencement exercises of the LSU school of banking of the South.

"Unless our plant capacity is doubled within the next decade, and operating budgets commensurately increased," he said, "we will have to resort to selective admissions."

Ninety-nine Southern bank executives received certificates representing three years' study of banking problems on a graduate level. The school includes three resident class sessions each summer with extension problems between sessions.

Not Evidence
Smith said a high school diploma was not in itself evidence of ability to do college work.

He said there was a trend in state-supported colleges and universities away from the practice of admitting all high school graduates.

"When we talk of selection," Smith continued, "the average person thinks of the exclusion from the university of somebody else's child, granted . . . that all high school graduates are entitled to a chance for higher education, there is certainly room for a re-definition of what we consider a reasonable chance."

Tie For National Open Lead

Second Round Scores Push Ford Behind

TOLEDO (AP)—Dick Mayer, a steady-shooting, and Billy Joe Patton, the usually scrambling amateur, matched magnificent finishes in the second round of the National Open Golf Championship today to tie for the lead with identical 36-hole scores of 70-68—138.

While the galleries at Inverness still were buzzing about Patton's magnificent iron shot for a final birdie that enabled him to snatch the lead from faltering Doug Ford, Mayer came along with birdies on the last three holes to tie him.

A little earlier, Masters champion Ford finished with bogey-par-bogey and a 71 that gave him a 140 total.

Mayer, like Patton, started the day two strokes behind the opening round leaders, Jimmy Demaret and Chick Harbert, who had 68s. Unlike Billy Joe, who was hitting them right down the middle for a change and staying close to par all the way, the blond St. Petersburg, Fla., pro wasn't regarded as a threat until the end.

Mayer was two over par after 13 holes. He birdied the 479-yard 14th, parred the 15th then put together his remarkable string of three straight threes.

Harbert, whose opening round was halted by darkness with two holes to go last night, played them in pars this morning for his 68 total.

Ken Venturi continued to lead steadily and finished with a 71 for a 140 total that put him into a tie with Ford for third place.

Julius Boros wound up with a 75 and a 144 total that was next best at the time. Then came Middlecott and Billy Maxwell with 146s. The defending champion had a double bogey and bogey on the last two holes for a second round of 75. Maxwell shot a 76.

Ben To Hang Around Open As Spectator

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 14 (AP)—Ben Hogan, forced out of the National Open Golf Tournament by an old back and chest ailment, probably will hang around Inverness to watch the boys battle for the crown he won four times.

"I had reservations to get back to Fort Worth tomorrow," Hogan said. "Now it looks as if I may stay over until Sunday."

After his abrupt withdrawal yesterday shortly before he was scheduled to tee off, Ben remained around the clubhouse until late afternoon watching play on the 18th hole and keeping tabs on scores despite thundershowers.

He returned to the course today and said, "Yes, I may go out on the course and watch a few shots."

The famous Texas golf champion said he still felt the effects of the pain which forced him out of the tournament.

"My trouble is in my chest wall. My blood pressure and heart were checked and found okay. I didn't take a cardiograph," Hogan added.

Hogan said he still had difficulty breathing and that there was severe pain when he moved his arms. He added that he felt changeable weather might be largely responsible for the ailment which struck him first at Orlando, Fla., in 1941.

"I notice when it gets hot and then cool, this thing hits me," he said. "It happened the last time last month in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va."

The doctor here called the condition a form of neuralgia. Hogan called it a cold, or pleurisy. It's a deep-seated pain between the shoulder blades and Ben treats it with diathermy and pain-killing novocaine.

Hogan said he planned to keep an exhibition golf engagement at Minneapolis July 7, and then he'd take it easy until next winter when he would start playing competitively again in the Seminole pro-amateur event at Palm Beach, Fla.

"My schedule will follow the same form as in recent years," he said. "I'll play in the Masters, Colonial and Open, if I can."

GARCIA WINS

Indians Defeat Baltimore, 7-2

CLEVELAND, June 14 (UP)—Mike Garcia pitched his first complete game of the season and newcomer Dick Williams and Bob Avila each hit home runs to lead the Cleveland Indians to a 7-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles tonight.

Garcia spaced eight hits to the Orioles, one of them a homer by Billy Goodman, obtained today from Boston in a trade for Mike Fornieles. It was Garcia's second victory of the year and Bill Wight dropped his fourth game.

Williams, obtained today from the Orioles in a trade for Jim Busby, who played center for Baltimore, hit his second home run of the year to break a 1-1 tie in the fourth, and it proved to be the decisive run. Avila cracked a three-run homer in the seventh off Skinny Brown, his third of the season.

Williams also got a single and a double, making it three hits in four times in his first game in an Indian uniform.

The Indians got their first run in the second on a walk to Rocky Colavito, a single by Williams and another by Chico Carrasquel. Williams homered in the fourth, and it proved to be the decisive run. Avila cracked a three-run homer in the seventh off Skinny Brown, his third of the season.

Villegas Defeated In Senior

Robert Jones Tops Old Foe In Match Play

Judge Robert Jones eliminated defended champion Al Villegas of New Orleans, 4-3, in champions flight match play yesterday in the State Senior Golf Tournament at Bayou Desiard Country Club.

Gilbert Hattier of New Orleans, Thursday's medalist, won over R. L. Bailey, Tallulah, 5-4 in another quarter-finals match and Col. F. B. Alexander, Baton Rouge bested H. E. McKenzie, Ruston, 2 up and I. F. Bennett, Houma, topped Abbeville's J. E. Caldwell, 3-2 in the other championship flight matches.

Jones and Villegas are old link rivals. The Bogalusa jurist defeated Villegas 5-4 in the finals of the 1954 tournament at Alexandria. Villegas turned the tables the next year, winning over Jones in 1955 and winning last year's tourney over Monroe's E. E. Lawson.

Jones squares off against Alexander in today's semi-finals and Hattier meets Bennett. They're set to start at 12:40. The tourney ends Sunday with the finals.

In the consolation matches, at 12:30, Villegas plays McKenzie and Bailey meets Caldwell.

Other results were:
Group 1, First Flight — Gene McCrone beat R. B. Prestice by default; Tom Crawford beat H. L. Woods 4-2; T. S. Shatto beat E. E. Wellenber by default; George Thomas beat C. T. Munhall 4-3.

Sturdivant Hurls Yanks Over KC

KANSAS CITY, June 14 (UP)—The New York Yankees continued their mastery over the Kansas City Athletics tonight as Tom Sturdivant pitched an 10-1 victory. It was the fifth triumph in five starts against the Athletics this year.

Mickey Mantle hit his 19th home run of the year with a man on in the eighth, but it was a five run fifth inning that won the game for the Yankees.

Bobby Richardson launched the big inning with a single and went to second on a sacrifice. Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra walked to lead the bases and Hank Bauer singled in two runs. Bill Skowron then singled to score Berra and Tom Gorman was brought in to pitch for Kansas City, replacing Wally Burnette.

Gorman was greeted with a single by Billy Martin which scored the final two runs of the inning.

DONOVAN GETS WIN

White Sox Beat Washington, 10-4

CHICAGO, June 14 (UP)—The Chicago White Sox, still bruised from their first fight with the New York Yankees, turned their wrath on Chuck Stobbs tonight and pounded out a 10-4 victory over the Washington Senators.

The win strengthened the Sox' hold on first place on the American League.

All the runs came off Stobbs, who mercifully was pulled for reliever Evelio Hernandez in the sixth. It was Stobbs' 11th straight loss this season and 18th consecutive setback. The Washington lefty's last win came against Baltimore on Sept. 2, 1956.

Dick Donovan chalked up the win, scattering 10 hits and walking one. It was Donovan's fifth win in his last six starts.

The Sox got all their runs in two innings, four in the first and six in the fifth.

Donovan had a shutout until the ninth, when Jim Lemon led off with a home run. Pete Runnels walked and Bob Usher hit a second home run. Bob Keegan then came in to relieve Donovan and after two were out, gave up a demands were "inequitable." He made the statement after meeting with Lou Perini, Braves' owner and Joe Cairnes, club president.

It was reported that the Braves had offered pitcher Gene Conley, but that the Giants wanted Ray Crone or Bob Buhl as well as outfielder Wes Covington, now at Wichita in the American Assn., instead of Bobby Thomson.

Braves' second baseman Danny O'Connell and a couple of other farm hands are also considered part of the deal.

USGA Gives Billy Patton Reprimand

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 14 (UP)—Billy Joe Patton of Morgantown, N. C., drew an official reprimand from the U. S. Golf Association today shortly before he fired a 63 which tied him at 138 with Dick Mayer for the second round lead in the U. S. Open.

Patton, using one of the Pontiac courtesy cars, posed for a picture with the agency owner. The ever-cautious USGA advised him that this was a violation of the amateur code against lending his likeness for commercial purposes.

Patton returned the courtesy car and, when they heard about it, so did every other amateur in the field. But they were told that, because they had not permitted their photographs to be taken, they still could use the cars.

Braves Pilot Calls For Ban Of Beanballs

NEW YORK, June 14 (UP)—Milwaukee manager, Fred Haney, in a television interview last night charged pitcher Don Drysdale of the Brooklyn Dodgers with deliberately throwing at Johnny Logan and demanded baseball authorities to ban beanballs.

Appearing with sportscaster Howard Cosell on the latter's ABC-TV "Sports Focus" television show, Haney said he was certain that Drysdale threw deliberately at Logan in the second inning of yesterday's game between Milwaukee and Brooklyn. Logan, plunked in the ribs, charged out to the mound and set off a free-for-all that lasted almost ten minutes.

"There's no question about it," Haney said. "Drysdale threw at Logan deliberately. Don't let anyone tell you that it was an accident. Heck, this is common practice in baseball. It always happens after the batter hits a home run. The pitcher then aims at the next batter."

"How do you know, Haney was asked.

"When you are in baseball as long as I have been, you just know," was the reply.

"In other words, you know that Drysdale was aiming at Logan," "Absolutely," Haney said. "I wouldn't say that Drysdale was aiming at Logan's head. He was aiming at Logan's body and that is where the ball went."

"Is this thing good for baseball?" was the next question.

"It's bad for baseball," was the reply.

"What would you do about it?" "I'd outlaw it," Haney said. "I think the commissioner's office or the league's office should outlaw it."

Haney explained he said nothing to Logan when the team entered the clubhouse after the game which was won by Milwaukee, 8-5.

"What could I have said to him?" he asked. "I couldn't blame him. He was perfectly right in doing what he did. If I had been the batter I would have punched Drysdale in the nose myself."

DAVIDSON, N. C., June 14 (UP)—Larry Caton of Pensacola, Fla., and Leslie Nicholson of Memphis, seeded No. 1 and 2 in the junior division, meet tomorrow for the singles title in the southern junior and boys tennis tournament.

Caton, making his second bid for the title, advanced to the final round today with a 6-2, 6-2 semi-finals victory over upset-minded Paul Scarpa of Charleston, S. C. Nicholson, overcoming a shaky start, moved up by turning back another of the tournament's top seeded players, Buzzy Cowart of Atlanta, 7-5, 6-1.

In boys division singles, fourth-seeded Hugh Lynch, 3rd, of Bethesda, Md., pulled the tournament's major upset by defeating top-seeded Frank Froehling, 3rd, of Coral Gables, Fla., 3-6, 9-7, 6-3. Cubs Defeat Pirates With 17-Hit Attack

PITTSBURGH, June 14 (UP)—The Chicago Cubs erupted for their biggest hitting and scoring spree of the season tonight with an 11-5 rout that halted the Pittsburgh Pirates' five-game winning streak.

The Cubs powered 17 hits, seven of them for extra bases. Ernie Banks paced the Cubs with four RBIs coming on a two-run double in the sixth inning and a homer with a man aboard in the eighth. It was his eighth home run of the year. Walt Moryn drove in three runs on a pair of singles and a double, and Jim Bolger accounted for two tallies with two singles.

The first Pirate hit was a fourth inning single by Bill Mazerowski, who scored after a wild pitch and a single by Dick Rand. The Pirates scored the remainder of their runs in the eighth of a triple by Bill Virdon, a single by Gene Freeze, a double by Mazerowski, pinch walks by Jim Pentleton and Bob Skinner and a single by Dee Fondy.

Starter Ronnie Kline, who was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the third inning, was the loser.

Pirate manager Bobby Bragan was ejected from the game when the Cubs were at bat in the eighth inning for heckling first base umpire Shag Crawford.

Crawford Henry Defeats MacKay

NEW ORLEANS, June 14 (AP)—Sixth-seeded Crawford Henry of Atlanta, Ga., toppled a temperamental Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, 7-5, 4-6 today in the quarterfinals of the Southern Tennis Championships.

Henry's victory over the second-seeded and heavily favored MacKay put three Atlanta players in the semifinals of the men's division.

Henry's opponent tomorrow will be third-seeded Frank Willett of Atlanta. Willett came back twice from near-defeat to edge unseeded David Harum of Miami, Fla., 3-6, 6-6, 7-5 in the other quarterfinal match played today.

The other semifinal match pits fourth-seeded Bryan (Betsy) Grant, third Atlanta player, against top-seeded P. W. Quillian, of Ft. Rucker, Ala., and Seattle, Wash. They advanced yesterday.

In the women's division, three of the four seeded players reached the semifinals. The only exception was third-seeded Sara Mae Turber of Evansville, Ind., who was eliminated by Margareta Bonstrom of Sweden. The Swedish player dropped the first set 2-6, but came back to win the next two 6-1, 7-5.

Top-seeded Jean Clarke of Birmingham, Ala., played one of the closest matches of the tournament against Sandra Loubat, New Orleans high school student. Miss Clarke won 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

Second-seeded Martha Hernandez of Mexico City and fourth-seeded Evelyn Cowan of Covington, Ga., had much easier times. Miss Hernandez trounced Inge Weber of Sweden and Coconut Grove, Fla., 6-0, 6-2. Miss Cowan trimmed 17-year-old Carol Ann Vest of Jackson, Miss., 6-0, 6-4.

The Henry-MacKay match, close all the way, was marred by the Ohio player's frequent outbursts of temper. Several times, obviously

MORE THAN HALF

Wholesale Baseball Shift Predicted By Congressman

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP)—Rep. Patrick J. Hillings predicted today that "more than half" the National League baseball teams will change cities within two years and that the American League may follow suit later.

The California Republican said the ice has been broken now that the National League has given Brooklyn and New York permission to move to his home state. He also said he had heard talk of other National League shifts.

"A lot of discussing and negotiating is going on and it is very likely that in the next season or two more than half of the teams may change their present locales," he told a reporter. "I think there may be some rumbling in the American League later, too."

Mixed Sport Events Ban Challenged By NO Boxer

NEW ORLEANS, June 14 (UP)—Louisiana's law banning racially mixed athletic events has been challenged for the first time in federal court by a New Orleans Negro boxer.

Light heavyweight Joseph Dorsey Jr. said today he filed an amended petition in federal district court challenging the constitutionality of the 1956 law. A trial date has not been set.

The law, which was approved by the state's Legislature with barely a murmur of opposition, bans Negroes from playing against whites in amateur or professional athletics.

Because of the law, Louisiana State University and Wisconsin canceled a home and away football series. The law prevents Negroes from competing in the Evangeline Baseball League or on Shreveport's team in the Texas League. It would also forbid a racially mixed team from playing in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl football classic.

Dorsey, an unranked fighter, said the law had cost him the means of his livelihood. He said he cannot earn more than $800 a year because of the law. If per-

Southwestern League Shaky; 1 Club Quits

PLAINVIEW, Tex., June 14 (UP)—Members of the Southwestern League will hold a meeting at 7 p. m. tomorrow in Plainview to discuss the Plainview baseball club's decision to fold and the league situation in general.

Directors of the Plainview club voted last night to cease operation after Saturday's night's game. W. J. Green of San Angelo, the league president, called the meeting.

Plainview's exit from the league leaves seven teams. There was some thought of also folding San Angelo, which the league operates, so the league could carry on with six teams.

mitted to fight whites, he could earn $10,000 a year, he said.

Dorsey began a suit in July, 1955, to break Louisiana's ban on mixed bouts. At that time, mixed bouts were blocked by rules of the state athletic commission, rather than by law.

By permission of Federal Judge Skelly Wright, Dorsey was permitted to amend his original suit against the commission to include a challenge to the 1956 law. Wright has given several decisions in recent months voiding Louisiana segregation laws.

Dorsey is challenging the law under the 14th amendment.

Sime, Morrow Won't Duel In AAU Event

AUSTIN, June 14 (UP)—There won't be any duel between Duke's Dave Sime and Abilene Christian's Bobby Morrow in the National AAU track meet next week at Dayton, Ohio.

Sime changed his mind about playing semi-pro baseball in South Dakota this summer, and decided to take part in the National AAU meet.

However, Morrow stuck to his previously announced plans to quit for the season after the National Collegiate meet in Austin today and tomorrow, in which he defends his titles in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Abilene Christian coach Oliver Jackson said Morrow was "ready to go to the farm" and rest, after two years of running, including the Olympic games last year in which he was the only winner of three gold medals.

White Sox, Yankee Brawlers Fined $650

CHICAGO, June 14 (AP)—One of the liveliest field brawls in big league baseball history today resulted in a nominal $650 total fining of five players—three New York Yankees and two Chicago White Sox.

President Will Harridge of the American League acted on yesterday's 28-minute free-for-all between the Yankees and White Sox at Comiskey Park and levied the fines:

- $150 each against outfielder Larry Doby of the White Sox and infielder Billy Martin and outfielder Enos Slaughter of the Yankees.
- $100 each against first baseman Walt Dropo of the White Sox and pitcher Art Ditmar of the Yankees.

Yankee co-owner Dan Topping announced after the fining the club would refund the amount of their fines to Martin, Slaughter and Ditmar.

"Our players did not start the fight," said Topping and we certainly would not expect them to run when the Sox players started the brawl."

Informed of Topping's announcement, Harridge declined comment.

There is a league rule, however, stating that league-imposed fines must be paid by players, by check or money order, with their own signatures inscribed.

At the same time, White Sox vice-president John Rigney had cheers for his gladiators and geers for the battling Yankees.

"I'm glad our players stood up and fought for their rights," ex-White Sox pitcher Rigney said.

"The Yankees have been bullying opponents long enough and maybe the incidents of yesterday will put an end to their rough tactics." The fireworks started yesterday when the 185-pound Doby knocked down 185-pound Ditmar with a left hook in a dispute over whether a Ditmar wild pitch was an intended bean ball in the first inning.

Jim Busby Goes To Orioles For Dick Williams

CLEVELAND, June 14 (AP)—Outfielder Jim Busby was traded to the Baltimore Orioles today in exchange for outfielder Dick Williams, the Cleveland Indians announced here.

Busby, batting .189, was used sparingly by the Indians as a centerfield replacement for Roger Maris. Tribe manager Kerby Farrell kept the speedy Busby on the bench because, Farrell said, he did not have a strong enough throwing arm.

Williams, a 28-year-old six-footer, has played every position for the Orioles except pitcher, catcher and shortstop. He hit .234 for Baltimore this year and has appeared in 47 of the Orioles' 54 games.

He spent five years with the Brooklyn Dodgers before being traded to the Orioles last June. Busby came to the Indians with Chico Carrasquel in the deal which sent Larry Doby to the Chicago White Sox in October, 1955.

Today's trade was a straight player exchange and involved no cash.

Baltimore is here for a game tonight and Cleveland officials said they hope details of the transaction can be worked out in time for both players to appear in uniform for their new clubs.

More Places Sought In Galveston 'To Shut Down'

GALVESTON, June 14 (UP) — Daniel—the lid is on to stay. State agents looked over "several more places" in Galveston today as the attorney general's drive to close down organized gambling and vice gained momentum. Two more assistants to Attorney General Will Wilson arrived from Austin to make a total of 11 agents in town to press padlock actions against more than 50 vice houses. Gulf Coast gamblers also had but were released when they told the word straight from Gov. Price

The governor said in Austin that the drive against vice "marks the end of organized gambling and the beginning of a new era of law enforcement in Texas." The drive, meanwhile, was having some effect. Three prostitutes, driven out of the Gulf Coast area by the crackdown, were arrested in Houston the rounds" Thursday said. "we have seen quite a few more places that interest us."

The jury late Thursday called in Cecil Rotsch and J. L. Smith, two assistant attorneys general. They were close-mouthed about the probe. Rotsch carried a briefcase 12 inches thick when he entered the grand jury chamber.

HEATER PROVIDES
If you're going to spend your vacation in the mountains or north country this summer, it would be a good idea to take along a portable electric heater.

Although the days may be warm, nights can be very cool in many resort areas and an electric heater may mean the difference between enjoyable evenings and chilly discomfort.

Police Clear Four Suspects In Tot's Death

DETROIT, June 14 (UP)—Police today "tentatively" cleared four suspects in the rape-slaying of little Mary DeCaussin and launched a determined search for the car in which the six-year-old girl was lured to her death.

"When we find that car, I'm sure we'll find more than enough evidence to convict the killer," Ecorse town's Police Chief Bentley Galloway said.

He pointed out that the victim apparently fought for her life after she was abducted and tell-tale signs of the struggle should be easy to find in the slayer's car.

Workers Freed
Galloway said an itinerant worker from Patchogue, N. Y., who was seen near the girl's home Wednesday shortly before she vanished, has been questioned and released.

A photographer who was taking pictures of children on a pony near the DeCaussin home the same afternoon and a suburban Lincoln Park factory worker in whose car a blood-stained blanket and shirt were found are still being held but have been "tentatively" cleared.

A fourth suspect, arrested in Detroit in a car containing razor blades, an ice pick and phonographic magazines, also has been cleared.

Mary's mutilated body was found about two miles from her Ecorse township home by a man dumping rubbish Thursday morning. One side of her face had been smashed and she was clad only in a white blouse.

Girard Denies Army Pressure For Jap Trial

CAMP WHITTINGTON, Japan, June 14 (UP)—U. S. Army Specialist 3-c William S. Girard, flanked by a general and a major, told newsmen today military authorities had put no pressure on him to stand trial in a Japanese court.

He repudiated previous statements attributed to him by his brother, Louis, in Ottawa, Ill. The 21-year-old soldier, accused of killing a Japanese woman on a U. S. firing range, had a two-hour conference with Brig. Gen. Charles L. Decker and Maj. Stanley F. Levin.

Then he met newsmen with Decker, the U. S. Army's assistant judge advocate general, and Levin, his Army legal counsel, to answer "two questions."

No Threats

He said the first question was whether Levin had been "threatening" him.

"The answer to that is no," Girard said.

The second question was whether anybody in the Army had put any "pressure" on him.

"What I meant by that — nobody in the Army has been pushing me around," Girard said.

"It's the restriction that has been put on me. Movies and private residences on the post are the only places I've been able to go."

Poor Connection

About the overseas telephone conversation with his brother, Girard said, "I don't think he heard so good. Our conversation wasn't too good. I couldn't hear him too good and he couldn't hear me so he couldn't hear what kind of pressure had been put on me."

Asked whether Levin had told him he might receive a stiffer sentence by a military court martial than by a Japanese trial, Girard said: "I ain't got any comment on that. When I came in here I had only two questions to answer and they've been said."

Texas Gasoline War Spreading

FORT WORTH, June 14 (UP)—A gasoline price war among independent dealers, which has been going on in Houston, spread to Fort Worth today.

Fort Worth's gasoline price war broke out on East Belknap, where one independent dealer dropped the price of regular gasoline from 26.9 cents to 23.9.

Other dealers on East Belknap followed. Prices also dropped in Texas company stations in the Riverside area. Premium gasoline sold two cents higher than regular at the new prices.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Lake Providence Files Suit For Rate Adjustment

BATON ROUGE, (Special)—The town of Lake Providence filed suit in district court here Thursday to have a new schedule of fire insurance rates imposed by the Louisiana Rating Commission reviewed and reversed.

The suit named the commission as defendant, along with its chairman, Rufus D. Hayes.

The town contends that the Louisiana Rating and Fire Prevention Bureau issued a new schedule of fire insurance rates on Feb. 28, 1955, which increased by more than 50 per cent rates on brick buildings and by more than 13 per cent rates on frame buildings. Other "specific risks," the town contends, were increased by as much as 600 per cent while in "certain rare risks" there was a slight decrease in the rates.

A hearing was held before the commission on April 26, the town contends, and on May 17 the commission ruled that the rates were not excessive.

The plaintiffs contend that the new rates should be nullified on the grounds they are "discriminatory, inadequate and unfair."

City detectives said today the headstones of the graves of King Emla and Queen Kelly Mitchell were shattered by someone who apparently hoped to rob the graves of money and jewels.

They said the 1,000-pound headstone to Queen Kelly's grave was moved and broken in half. Both graves have been molested numerous times.

Queen Kelly died in 1915 at the age of 47 and about 20,000 gypsies flocked to Meridian for her funeral. King Emla died in 1942.

WILL DOAGIE HOGAN LEAD AN INVASION OF RED CHINA?

Not if Lt. Col. STEVE CANYON has anything to say about it! Doogie Hogan, American flyer and soldier of fortune, is impulsive, hot-headed, and fanatically loyal to lovely Princess Snowflower—deposed ruler of a small kingdom in Western China. Hogan is determined to use the Princess' "tourist" trip to the United States to raise funds and a volunteer army for an invasion of Red China.

STEVE CANYON, appointed by the U. S. Government as Princess Snowflower's guide and bodyguard, is just as determined that Hogan's harebrained scheme be quietly but firmly squelched.

But how can Steve do it so that all parties involved—Hogan, The Princess, the U. S. Government and himself—can save face? Find out by reading an exciting, timely new story of

SAYS FACT MISREPRESENTED

Shreveport Times Editorial Blasted By F. F. Wimberly

ALEXANDRIA, La. June 14 (UP)—F. F. Wimberly, who proposed an increase in the gas-gathering tax to implement Louisiana school teachers pay raises, today blasted a newspaper which opposed the tax hike.

Wimberly, superintendent of Iberia parish school and chairman of the Louisiana Teachers Association's legislative committee,

Felon Granted 10-Day Leave For Role In Capture

PARCHMAN, Miss., June 14 (UP)—Willie Aubrey Skelton today began a 10-day leave from state penitentiary, his reward for helping capture four escaped convicts last month.

Skelton was sentenced to life for a 1953 murder in Marshall County.

Gov. J. P. Coleman granted the 10-day leave upon recommendation of Sgt. Bill Harpole, who said Skelton was instrumental in the capture of the four dangerous men.

The four, all carrying knives, kidnapped their guard and fled in his automobile.

They surrendered peacefully when Skelton and his bloodhounds chased them into a lake.

Bastrop Council Okays Television Booster Station

BASTROP (Special)—The Bastrop City Council has approved a 25-year franchise for a booster TV station for Bastrop which will enable TV owners to pick up practically any station within 150 miles radius.

The cost of the station was estimated at around $20,000 and would require the installation of a 350-foot tower. Only persons who subscribe to the services would be able to get stations available.

Boy Who Shot Playmate Free

TUPELO, Miss., June 14 (UP)—A 13-year-old Tupelo boy accused in the fatal shooting of a friend has been released to the custody of an uncle pending a decision on charges which Chancery Judge William Inzer said he will announce July 1.

Discount Report 'Boosters' For TV Picture Tubes Are 'Harmful'

NEW YORK, June 14 (UP)—A report that "boosters" for aging television picture tubes create mild and possible harmful X ray was discounted today by industry experts.

Such boosters add only an extremely small voltage to the tubes and in no manner produce harmful increases in the tube radiation, industry technicians said.

A report yesterday quoted an industrial consultant for the State Commerce Department as saying these devices boost tube power enough to create mild X rays which might aggravate such problems as eye cataracts. TV viewers were warned to keep back at least six feet. TV experts said, told some 225 delegates attending an LTA meeting here his proposed one and one-half cent increase would not be a burden to either the taxpayers or industry.

He criticized the Shreveport Times which he said accused him "of misrepresenting the fact," in an editorial.

The meeting, attended by superintendents and local LTA units represented 53 Louisiana parishes, city school boards, members of the board of education. Also in attendance were members of the Louisiana State University, Southwestern Louisiana Institute, and Southeastern College faculties.

To Get Cuts Wimberly said he would inform the 606 Iberia parish teachers within the next two months they would receive pay cuts next year, because of lack of funds to raise teachers salaries in compliance with a 1956 legislative act.

In supporting the increase in the gas-gathering tax for teachers' salaries, Wimberly said neither Louisiana taxpayers or industry would suffer.

Delegates were briefed on ways to carry the teachers' side of the tax and raise question to the general public.

The 1957 legislature gave teachers $25 million for increased salaries and retirement payments. But the sum fell about $25 million short of meeting the 1956 salary schedule passed by the legislature.

U.S. Seeks To Cut Domestic Sugar Prices

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP)—The Agriculture Department, in a new move to check rising sugar prices, acted today to increase current supplies in the domestic market.

It rescinded an order requiring some offshore areas to hold back a part of their 1957 quotas until after Nov. 1.

This action would permit these areas to ship their full quotas to this country any time they desire.

Under the rescinded order, Cuba had been required to hold back 100,000 tons; Mexico, Peru and the Dominican Republic 16,000 tons each, and Hawaii 50,000 tons.

however, that the term booster apparently had been confused with a technical change, rarely used, in which the 15,000-volt power supply of a TV set is replaced by one of perhaps twice as much.

This sort of change is something with which only servicemen need be concerned and is nothing for the set owner to be alarmed about, it was said.

It was pointed out that boosters sold for general use add only about 1.5 volts to the power of the mechanism which generates electrons to produce the picture on the TV screen. It has no effect on the normal 15,000-volt power supply used to carry the electrons to the tube face — power far below that used for X rays.

Senate Group Okays Bill For Cotton Sales

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP)—The Senate Agriculture Committee today approved a bill to release from the critical materials stockpile 50,000 bales of domestic extra long staple cotton for sale in commercial channels.

The measure already has passed the House. It calls for sale of the cotton at not less than 105 per cent of the current support price. The committee predicted it probably will sell "somewhat above this price."

The Agriculture Department in recommending the bill said the 50,000 bales are needed by the domestic market "to meet demand that exists now and most likely will continue until the new domestic crop is harvested beginning in October."

The House Agriculture Committee said in a report that the stockpile contains more of this type cotton than the stockpiling goal.

PRICES SLASHED on brand name POWER MOWERS at HOWARD GRIFFIN

Before you're tempted to buy that "BARGAIN"
power mower

WHAT ABOUT QUALITY?

These mowers are not to be confused with inferior, unknown makes specially built as promotional models made to sell in stores which are not normally considered logical power mower outlets. They're all 1957 models —not last year's leftovers.

WHAT ABOUT SERVICE?

Now you don't go to a perfume counter to buy a monkey wrench. Before you buy any power mower, insist on seeing the service department—if there is one. Service farmed out to someone else is rarely satisfactory. We guarantee that our brands are backed by the most complete parts dept. and the finest service facilities that can be found anywhere. You can't afford to ignore the service angle in choosing your mower.

BUY YOUR POWER MOWER FROM EXPERTS IN THE BUSINESS.

SERVICE BEFORE SALE Important

Every power mower we sell is carefully checked out, properly adjusted, oiled and gassed—ready for carefree operation.

WHAT ABOUT WARRANTY?

WE POSITIVELY DO NOT warranty any power mowers except our own brands.
